

An illustration of three birds of paradise in a lush jungle. The central bird is the largest, with a long, pointed beak, large eyes, and a crest of orange and blue feathers. It has a dark purple body with a yellow and orange patch on its chest. Two smaller birds of similar appearance are positioned on either side of the central bird. The background is filled with green foliage and orange flowers.

The Almost True Story of Birds of Paradise

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY CAROLYN GORA

Carolyn Gora